Summary of Findings:

The Graves Registration Report form for Plot 7 Row B Grave 3 in Cabaret Rouge British Cemetery lists an Unknown Canadian Corporal. The body was exhumed from the Mericourt Communal Cemetery German Extension.

A review of all the records clearly show that only Corporal Alfred Cromwell Myers #781706 of the 46th Battalion is missing in the area of Mericourt France in February 1917 and is named on the Vimy Memorial.

Details of Findings: (if required)

The evidence in this case presents a compelling argument that the remains exhumed from the Mericourt Communal Cemetery German Extension and concentrated in the Cabaret Rouge British Cemetery are those of Corporal Alfred Cromwell Myers.

The findings are based on the following:

1. Corporal Myers was reported to have died through German sources, during a raid by the 10 Infantry Brigade on February 19, 1917. Myers was with the 46th Infantry Battalion. The records report that he was wounded immediately after entering the enemy trenches and that he reported to his comrades that he was alright and that he would return to his own lines. When they returned, Myers was gone and thereafter the Germans reported his death. It appears that Corporal Myers was buried in conjunction with Private Hughie James McLean on or since February 13, 1917 (Attachment #1).
2. Corporal Myers remains were not recovered for identification and thus his name appears on the Vimy Memorial (Attachment #2).
3. The 46th Battalion of the 10th Infantry Brigade, 4th Canadian Division, executed a raid on the German trenches east of Mericourt on February 19, 1917 (Attachment #3).
4. The War Diary of the 46th Battalion reports on the raid at approximately 5:30 pm on February 19, 1917. The diary goes on to report that 15 casualties as part of that raid and that Corporal Myers was missing, as was Lance Corporal Righton. The other 13 casualties were wounded and there were no reported deaths (Attachment #4). There is no report of the recovery of either Myers or Righton by the 46th Battalion and subsequently both were reported through German sources to have died.
5. The only other Corporal on the Vimy Memorial for February 1917 was Corporal Robert Paton Sharpe, at Bully Grenay, some distance to the north west of Mericourt, past Lens and near Barin (Attachment #4). Although Corporal Sharpe's name also appeared on a list of deaths from German sources, it is not conceivable that his remains would have been moved to the Mericourt Communal Cemetery (Attachment #5).
6. The Concentration of Graves – Burial Return indicates that the bodies were exhumed from the Mericourt Communal Cemetery German Extension. This cemetery is in close proximity to where the trench raids were taken place and would explain why the Germans reported on the death of these Canadian soldiers (Attachment #6).
7. The Commonwealth War Grave Commission records report that 20 Corporals of the Canadian Expeditionary Force were killed in action from February 1 to February 28, 1917. Of these 14 Corporals were in the Canadian Infantry. All other Canadian Corporals have known grave sites.

The additional Corporal listed in the current database is for a Corporal from the Newfoundland Regiment, which does not apply in this case. Of the 14 Canadian Infantry Corporals, only two (2) are listed on the Vimy Memorial as having no known grave. As noted in Paragraph 5 above, Corporal Sharpe, unlike Corporal Myers, was not in the area of Mericourt at the time of his death and is excluded (Attachment #6). For confirmation purposes, there were 4 Lance Corporals (Collins, Down, Halliday and Righton) but only 1 Corporal, as clearly reported in the CWGC records.

8. The Concentration of Graves (Exhumations and Reburials Burial Report shows that the Unknown Corporal was exhumed at 44A (36C) T5 c7.6 which is the precise location of the Mericourt Communal Cemetery German Extension. The body of Corporal Myers was found with Private Hughie McLean, 2 other unknown Canadian Soldiers (UCS) and 5 Unknown British Soldiers (UBS).
9. This report properly states that the Unknown Corporal has the most probable identity as Corporal Alfred Cromwell Myers (aka "Believed to Be"), as the evidence is clear that it is not another Corporal of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Unlike other cases, this is not a "Confirmed Identity" as we do not have an exact date for the burial of the remains in the Mericourt Communal Cemetery Extension. The date is believed to be February 1917 on the basis of the whereabouts of Canadian forces at that time and the burial date of Private McClean, prior to the 1st Battle of the Scarpe. During the subsequent period of May and June 1917 during the 2nd and 3rd Battles of the Scarpe, the forces were to the west and north of the Mericourt area in the Avion-Lens Sector (and the Battle of Hills 65 and 70). When the Canadians returned to the Arras area in the fall of 1918, they were in a much southern area between Arras and Cambrai.

Action Required: (if any)

The "Investigative Report" has been prepared in accordance with the procedures and criteria set out by the CWGC, should they wish to make any changes to the commemoration details (Attachment #9).

There is compelling evidence that the body of the unknown Corporal in Plot 7 Row B Grave 3 at Carbare Rouge British Cemetery is that of Corporal Alfred Cromwell Myers.

It is the researcher's contention that a confirmed identity would require access to the burial records for the Mericourt Communal Cemetery German Extension.

10TH CANADIAN INFANTRY BRIGADE.
REPORT ON MINOR RAID CARRIED OUT BY THE 46TH CANADIAN INFANTRY BATTALION
February 19th, 1917.

OBJECTIVE.

German front line between S.9.a.15.70 and S.9.a.15.95, the main-objective being the triangle enclosed within this area.

ORGANIZATION.

The raiding party, numbering 3 Officers and 93 Other Ranks, were divided into smaller parties, and further subdivided into sections as follows:

"A" Party - Lieut. REYMES in Command; 5 sections of 1 N.C.O. and 6 men each; 2 L.A.Rs. with a crew of 3 men each; 2 snipers.

"B" Party - Lieut. GILPIN in Command; 5 sections of 1 N.C.O. and 6 men each; 2 L.A.Rs. with a crew of 3 men each; 2 snipers.

"C" Party - Lieut. BINGHAM in Command; 2 riflemen; 2 sappers; 6 stretcher bearers; 3 signallers.

Each party was given a definite task to perform, which proved very effective.

The 18th Brigade R.F.A. and the 63rd H.A. co-operated. The Stokes L.T.Ms. co-operated with 6 guns, distributed as follows:

1 gun on sap rear of FOOTBALL Crater.

1 gun on PIMPLE, S.9.a.2.4.

3 guns on the triangle.

1 gun on a trench 100 yards North of the triangle.

Ammunition expended - 525 rounds.

The 12th M.G. Company co-operated with a barrage which proved very effective. One enemy M.G. only, opened fire from the vicinity of SOUCHEZ River, and was quickly silenced.

Very effective work was accomplished and great damage done to enemy trenches and wire.

Zero hour - 5:30 p.m., February 19th, 1917.

The artillery barrage was excellent, and the raiding party, advancing close under this barrage, entered the enemy's trenches immediately it lifted.

The line was found to be thinly held and but few live Germans were encountered. Two came to the door of one dug-out but refused to come farther; they were dealt with. At a second dug-out in rear of the triangle, where the fight took place during the last raid, a party of 12 came out and ran; 4 escaped. Several dead Germans were encountered in the trench, having been killed by the artillery and Stokes barrage.

The party under Lieut. BINGHAM dealt with one large dug-out, but were unable to enter it owing to having used P Bombs. It was destroyed by the sappers.

The party under Lieut. REYMES bombed 7 dug-outs, in most of which enemy were seen but refused to come out. This party also found 4 sniper's posts well built in the parapet. 6 dead Germans were also seen beside a destroyed machine gun which had apparently been hit by a shell. Lieut. REYMES secured identification by taking the shoulder straps from the bodies of 4 Germans. They were all of the 11th Regiment.

ATTACHMENT #9

This “Reporting and Review” attachment is provided to assist all parties in the submission of an investigative report related to the identification of the burial location, or headstone markings, of a member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force (CEF) during the Great War 1914-1921. The Commonwealth War Graves Commission (CWGC) receives a copy of this report in the event they wish to make changes to the commemoration details. In order to alter the records, the CWGC has set out their criteria for the procedure and submission of cases for review, as detailed below. The CWGC is under no obligation to make changes based on a report.

| Procedure:  | Guideline Criteria for Submission:   |
|--|---|
| All new identification cases need to be assessed in the first instance by the Canadian Agency (CA) and submissions should go to their office directly. After an initial assessment, if the Agency feels that the case is compelling, they will then pass all the documentation to the Commemorations Team at the Commission's Head Office. Head Office will then review the case and inform the CA of their findings. The Canadian authorities will then decide whether or not any changes to the arrangements for commemoration are required and inform the Commission accordingly. | Cases need to present clear and convincing evidence to prove the identity of a casualty and must not be based on assumption or speculation. The Commission's Commemoration Team will also consider whether the findings of a better informed contemporary investigation are being revisited and if there is any new evidence to consider. By way of example, it is unlikely that the Commission would support a revision of the arrangements for the commemoration where it is apparent that no new evidence is being presented and, a better informed previous decision is being revisited some 100 years later. |

The following have participated in the preparation, review and submission of this report on a voluntary basis. Those noted below have read the investigative report and compared it to the criteria set out by the CWGC, as a guiding principle, and have agreed to have their name included as part of the review team. The CWGC may contact any of the reviewers at the e-mail address provided below.
